LEAGUE'S DESPERATE EFFORT TO AVERT WAR

PEACE-MAKERS' COMMITTEE

ITALY IS BESTED IN GENEVA SKIRMISH

EDEN AND LAVAL WILL BE NEGOTIATORS

(SPECIAL TO "TELEGRAPH")

(By Telegraph. Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, Sept. 7, 8 a.m.)

Geneva, Sept. 6.

The League of Nations won a minor victory to-day when it secured the consent of the Italian Government to allowing the Council to appoint a Committee of Five Nations, including Britain and France, which would adopt conciliatory measures in the Italo-Ethiopian dispute.

The Italian delegates were absent during the formation of the Committee, because the Ethiopian representatives were present in the Council.

The Council named the representatives of Britain, France, Spain, Poland and Turkey as members of the Committee, and then adjourned. The Committee named Senor Salvador de Madariaga, of Spain, chairman, and went into recess until the morning. The Council also meets to-morrow.

The Committee will function without reference to the League. However, if it fails to find a solution to the Italo-Ethiopian puzzle, the Council has authorised the Committee to recommend a settlement under Article XV of the Covenant.

Actually there is only a faint hope that the Committee can avert a war. The British and French efforts have obtained a delay in any event and have overcome the Italian objections to their being on the Committee on the grounds that they were interested parties.

ITALIAN ACE ON WAY TO JOIN ARMY

LEAVES BY NALDERA FOR E. AFRICA

FINE MORALE OF TROOPS

Geneva, Sept. 6.
Mr. Anthony Eden, Great Britain's Minister for League Affairs, and chief delegate at Geneva, M. Pierre Laval, the French Prime Minister and League spokesman, and Baron Aloisi, mouthpiece of the Italian Government, are likely to remain for some time the trio upon whom peace or war depends.

The meeting of the Committee of Five, which is seeking some means of conciliation, and which held its first session to-night, was very brief. It sufficed to appoint Senor Madariaga of Spain its chairman and to set 10.30 o'clock to-morrow for its first meeting.

At this meeting the Committee will probably delegate powers to Mr. Eden and M. Laval to negotiate with Baron Aloisi, though the method of procedure is not yet definite.

Certainly the Committee's spokesmen will approach both sides in the dispute and there is reason to believe that Italy is prepared to accept the Paris proposals as the basis for discussion, provided they are advanced as a point of departure and not as the last word.—Reuter.

FULL RESPONSIBILITY

Geneva, Sept. 6.

The Italo-Abyssinian dispute has been finally relegated to the Committee of Five which was appointed after Baron Aloisi had left the Council chamber. He left the moment the Ethiopian delegates entered.

Baron Aloisi returned immediately after the Committee had been named and the Council had commenced its routine agenda.

The Committee of Five meets when the Council adjourns and will act as a go-between for the two parties to the dispute, attempting negotiations on the basis of the Paris proposals, it is believed.

The personnel of the Committee is Mr. Eden, Britain, M. Laval, France, Colonel Beck, Poland, M. Tzankaras, Turkey, and Senor (Continued on Page 18.)

Ex-Soldier On Strange Hoax Charge

POSED AS MAJOR IN MEDICAL CORPS

OBJECTIONABLE BEHAVIOUR

(Special to "Telegraph")

(By Telegraph. Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, September 7, 5.10 a.m.)

London, Sept. 6.

A bogus Major's masquerade was related in the Police Court at Andover to-day, when Richard Willoughby was sentenced to six months' imprisonment for wearing unauthorised military decorations and was fined £5 for unlawfully wearing a Major's uniform.

Posing as a Major of the R.A.M.C., Willoughby drove a big motor-car to the R.A.M.C. cricket ground at Tidworth, and after watching the game he was entertained at the officers' mess. He stated that he had come in connection with an outbreak of diphtheria.

Subsequently, Willoughby dined at the officers' mess, where his manners were alleged to be objectionable, as the result of taking too much drink. He was sent to the military hospital, but his name could not be found in the Army Medical List.

The prosecution stated that Willoughby was discharged from the Army in 1914 and immediately re-enlisted under an assumed name. He subsequently travelled all over the country, posing at different times as a clergyman, the nephew of a Scottish Peer, a doctor and an Army officer. He had also sailed aboard a liner as a ship's surgeon, posed as a doctor in Canada, Panama, Singapore and elsewhere.

Accused was released on bail, pending an appeal.—Reuter Special.

BRITISH ASSOCIATION PRESIDENT

London, Sept. 6.

The importance of economic science as a key to many baffling problems—created by recent advances in other branches of science—receives recognition in the decision of the Council of the British Association to nominate as the 1936 President Sir Josiah Stamp, eminent statistician and Chairman of the London Midland and Scottish Railway and a former Treasury official.—British Wireless

HITLER'S REGIME ATTACKED

CONDITIONS OF BARBARISM

U.S. COURT'S COMMENT

(Special to "Telegraph")

(By Telegraph. Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, September 7, 8 a.m.)

New York, Sept. 6.

The recent riot occasioned by the sailing of the Bremen, when Communists tore the Swastika flag from the liner, had a remarkable sequel to-day, when Magistrate Louis Brosky, in dismissing the charges against five of those arrested, denounced the Hitler regime from the Bench.

The Magistrate described the Bremen as "a pirate ship with the black flag of piracy proudly flying aloft."

A sixth defendant was remanded to answer charges of assault and

violation of the law against gun-running.

The Magistrate declared that the flying of the Swastika flag in New York Harbour may have been regarded by the defendants and other citizens as "a gratuitous symbolising antagonism to American ideals and representing an atrocious throw-back to pre-medieval if not barbaric conditions."

Nevertheless, concluded the Magistrate, "I do not want any words of mine to be construed as countenancing unlawfulness."

King's Cup Pilot Down In Irish Sea

EXCITING AIR RACE ELIMINATION

PERCIVAL'S ERROR

London, Sept. 6.

The qualifying heats of the King's Cup Air Race were flown to-day. Last-minute withdrawals included the Comet, in which Mr. T. Campbell Black made his recent fast time to Cairo and plans shortly to make a return flight to Canada, and Nehromer, in a De Havilland D.H. 90.

The fastest machine left was a Percival New Gull, entered by the Duke of Kent and flown by Captain E. W. Percival, which was handicapped as for 135 miles per hour.

The first machine home to-day was a Hawk, piloted by Mr. F. G. Miles, who completed the course at an average speed of 163.75 miles an hour. The Percival New Gull was second at 162 miles per hour.

There were two women competitors, of whom Miss R. Slow, on a Hawk Six, was eighth to complete the course, but was later disqualified for a technical fault in rounding one of the turning points.

The only serious mishap to competitors occurred when A. Henshaw in a Hawk, was forced down at sea while on the forty-mile section across the Irish Sea, which is an innovation in the race, but the pilot jumped clear of the machine and hung on to the wreckage until rescued by a passing steamer.

The final will be flown to-morrow over a circuit measuring 51.68 miles, the machines turning round pylons and covering the circuit seven times.—British Wireless.

STRANGE FINISH

London, Sept. 6.

The elimination stage of the King's Cup air race resulted in an exciting finish at Hatfield Aerodrome to-day when F. G. Miles, flying a Miles Hawk M-5, crossed the line one minute ahead of Captain Percival, wartime ace, who was piloting the Duke of Kent's entry.

Captain Percival led the whole way but in a moment of forgetfulness passed the aerodrome. When he turned back, just too late, it was to see Miles sweep down towards the landing field.

Miles covered the course of 953 miles, including time for stoppages, in five hours 40 minutes.—Reuter.

achieving "comradely co-operation" of all student organisations on Nazi Party lines.

Examples of his difficulties are that the Patriotic Students' Association, founded in 1915, "persist in their own political aim" and the attitude of the so-called Students' Ring, which has refused to exclude non-Aryans.—Reuter Special.

STIMULATES U.S. RECOVERY

REASSURING WORDS FROM ROOSEVELT

PROGRAMME OF REFORM COMPLETED?

New York, Sept. 6.

President Roosevelt's statement that his basic programme of reform and recovery has reached "substantial completion" and that the breathing spell wanted by business is now here, is considered most significant in Wall Street circles where the opinion is freely expressed that the President's statement will be a great relief to business.

Some, however, believe that business needs more than a breathing spell. They feel that the budget should be balanced and that taxation should be reduced. Living cost, too, must be kept down before genuine recovery is possible.

On the other hand, few officials in Washington believe that President Roosevelt is prepared to surrender the extraordinary emergency powers vested in him by Congress, at least in the near future.

Big business men in some quarters believe that the President's statement is pure propaganda, aimed at introducing an atmosphere of confidence preparatory to the 1936 election.—Reuter.

MARKET REACTION

New York, Sept. 6.

The stock market reacted buoyantly to President Roosevelt's announcement with regard to his reform programme. Many Democrats expressed pleasure at a calling of a halt to the period of sweeping reforms.

On the other hand Republicans feel the announcement does not go far enough. They declare no recovery is possible without a balanced budget.

Colonel Frank Knox, Republican presidential "possibility" and newspaper magnate, declared: "It is just another promise—important if it can be relied upon."

WALL STREET OPINION

New York, Sept. 6.

Wall Street construed the President's statement of policy in his letter to Mr. Roy Howard as highly favourable and interpreted it as a further swing towards the right. Most businessmen, however, are making no comment pending a more definite indication of the trend in Washington.

Mr. Williamson, the President of the New York Central Railroad Co. to-day said: "It is essential that business be given a breathing spell. Such a policy at this time would be helpful to business."

Mr. Lionel Edie, the Wall Street economist, said: "It will be a great relief when business can be fully assured that emergency and reform measures have been really halted."

Mr. Louis K. Comstock, the President of the Merchants Association, said: "I still think that the Tax Bill is a mistake and that its effect will be harmful. However, it is gratifying to know that we have been promised a breathing spell. This announcement should be helpful."

STOCKS CLIMB

President Roosevelt's answer to Mr. Roy Howard's letter created a bullish feeling on the New York Stock Exchange which gradually developed speed. General Electric added $28,845,945 to the value of its stocks while Chrysler gained $17,937,500 and Westinghouse $9,698,779.

Traders have forecast heavier markets with rising prices on the market's ability to carry the industrial average to a new high since 1931 and which is substantiated by the strength of rails.—United Press.

HOWARD'S COMMENT

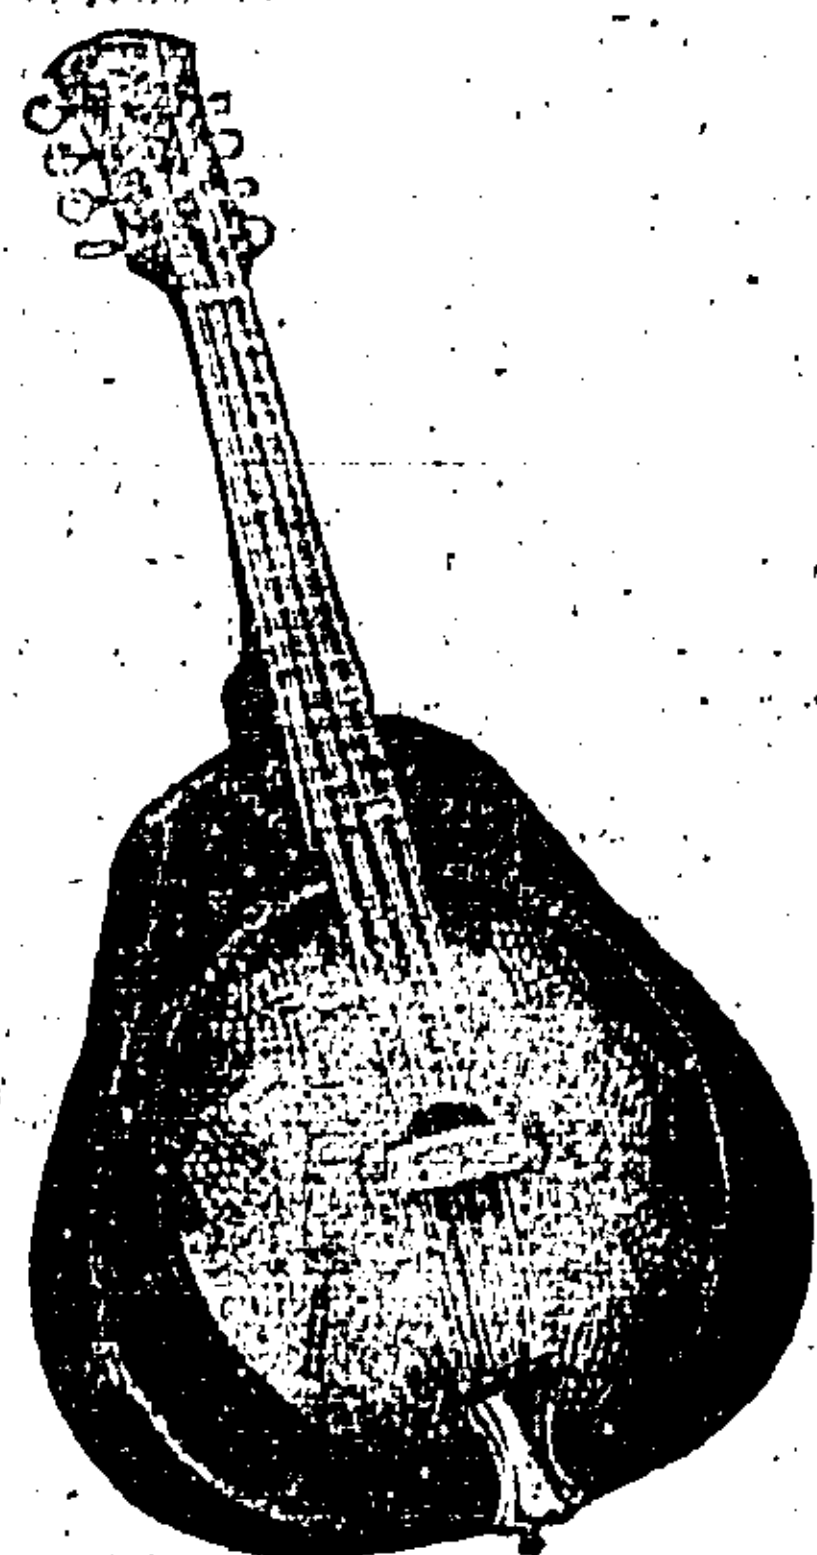

San Francisco, Sept. 6.

Mr. Roy Howard's copy of President Roosevelt's letter reached Reuter.

London Man Who Saw 700 Inquests

MR. R. J. MARKS DEAD

THE "Inquest King" has died in London. In the last 50 years Mr. Robert J. Marks attended and reported between 60,000 and 70,000 inquests. For that achievement he earned his "monarchy." Last week his death in hospital was announced.

In his younger days Mr. Marks never missed a big trial at the Old Bailey. He travelled all over the country reporting Assize cases for the London Press.

In 1878 He was probably the last of the reporters who, in 1878, were rushed to Woolwich when the pleasure steamer, the Princess Alice, sank with the loss of hundreds of lives.

He reported the inquests which followed the death of one of Jack the Ripper's victims, the first fatal motorcar accident, and the first motorbus and taxicab fatalities.

He was present when Mme. Rachel, the notorious beauty parlour swindler, was sentenced. He attended the inquest when she poisoned herself in gaol.

Shortly afterwards, he attended a coroner's inquiry into the death of a woman who shot herself in a cab. It was Mme. Rachel's daughter.

Loafers Jurymen In the days when Mr. Marks—after serving an apprenticeship as a paper boy at Charing Cross Station—first began reporting inquests, they were invariably held in public houses.

He used to tell how loafers made a habit of calling on the coroner's officer in the hope of securing work on the jury for the day at a shilling a case.

"What with the illiteracy of juries the squalor of some of the 'courts' and the unpunctuality of coroners, I have seen some queer inquiries," he said.

Mr. Marks once reported an inquest in a royal palace—the inquiry which followed a fatal fire at Hampton Court.

He could remember a case when, after two bodies had been identified and the insurance money drawn by relatives, the two "dead men" turned up alive and well.

In recent years he had a form of writer's cramp brought on through writing by hand many millions of words.

Heiress To Marry Third Husband In London

Two of the wealthiest families of France and America will be united by the wedding of Mrs. Delphine Dodge Baker and M. Timothy M. Godde. They became engaged in London several days ago, but kept it secret while wedding plans were discussed.

A report ran through American circles in London and in the United States that they were actually married.

The Duke of York taking some film shots during a visit to a holiday camp in Suffolk, where 400 youths from schools and factories were assembled.

To this Mrs. Baker's brother, Mr. Horace Dodge, replied: "They are engaged, and I hope the wedding will take place from my London home in September."

Mrs. Dodge Baker is the daughter and heiress of one of the most famous "mushroom" millionaires of this century—Mr. Horace E. Dodge, who built up with his brother the colossal motor-car firm which still bears his name.

When the two brothers died fifteen years ago and the business was sold, the widows had more than £15,000,000 each given to them and their families.

Castle And Chateau

M. Timothy M. Godde is the son of M. Jules Godde, a rich silk manufacturer, who owns one of the show castles of France, a chateau near Alsace. He has lived in America a great many years, has a home at Kye, New York, and is an outstanding amateur golfer.

M. Godde will be Mrs. Baker's third husband. She first married Mr. James Cromwell, now the husband of Miss Doris Duke, American tobacco millionaire, in 1920. After eight years she divorced him at Reno, and then married Mr. Raymond T. Baker, a director of the United States Mint.

This year, while Mrs. Baker was visiting her brother in London, her husband died. She then thought of taking up a musical career by giving concert recitals in London, but romance has intervened.

After seeing her mother (who has been married again to a popular Broadway actor, Mr. Hugh Dillman) off to America, Mrs. Baker disappeared to an obscure village by the sea "to get a rest from telephone inquiries for a week."

hotel, she went to a post office and requested to be delivered by special messenger.

The order was accepted, she paid the regulation fee of three-pence, and was delivered at the hotel by telegraph-boy.

Mr. Churchill's private secretary, however, defeated her plan by refusing to accept delivery of the "packet."

POSTED HERSELF BY PACKET POST

WINSTON CHURCHILL'S FEMALE "MAIL"

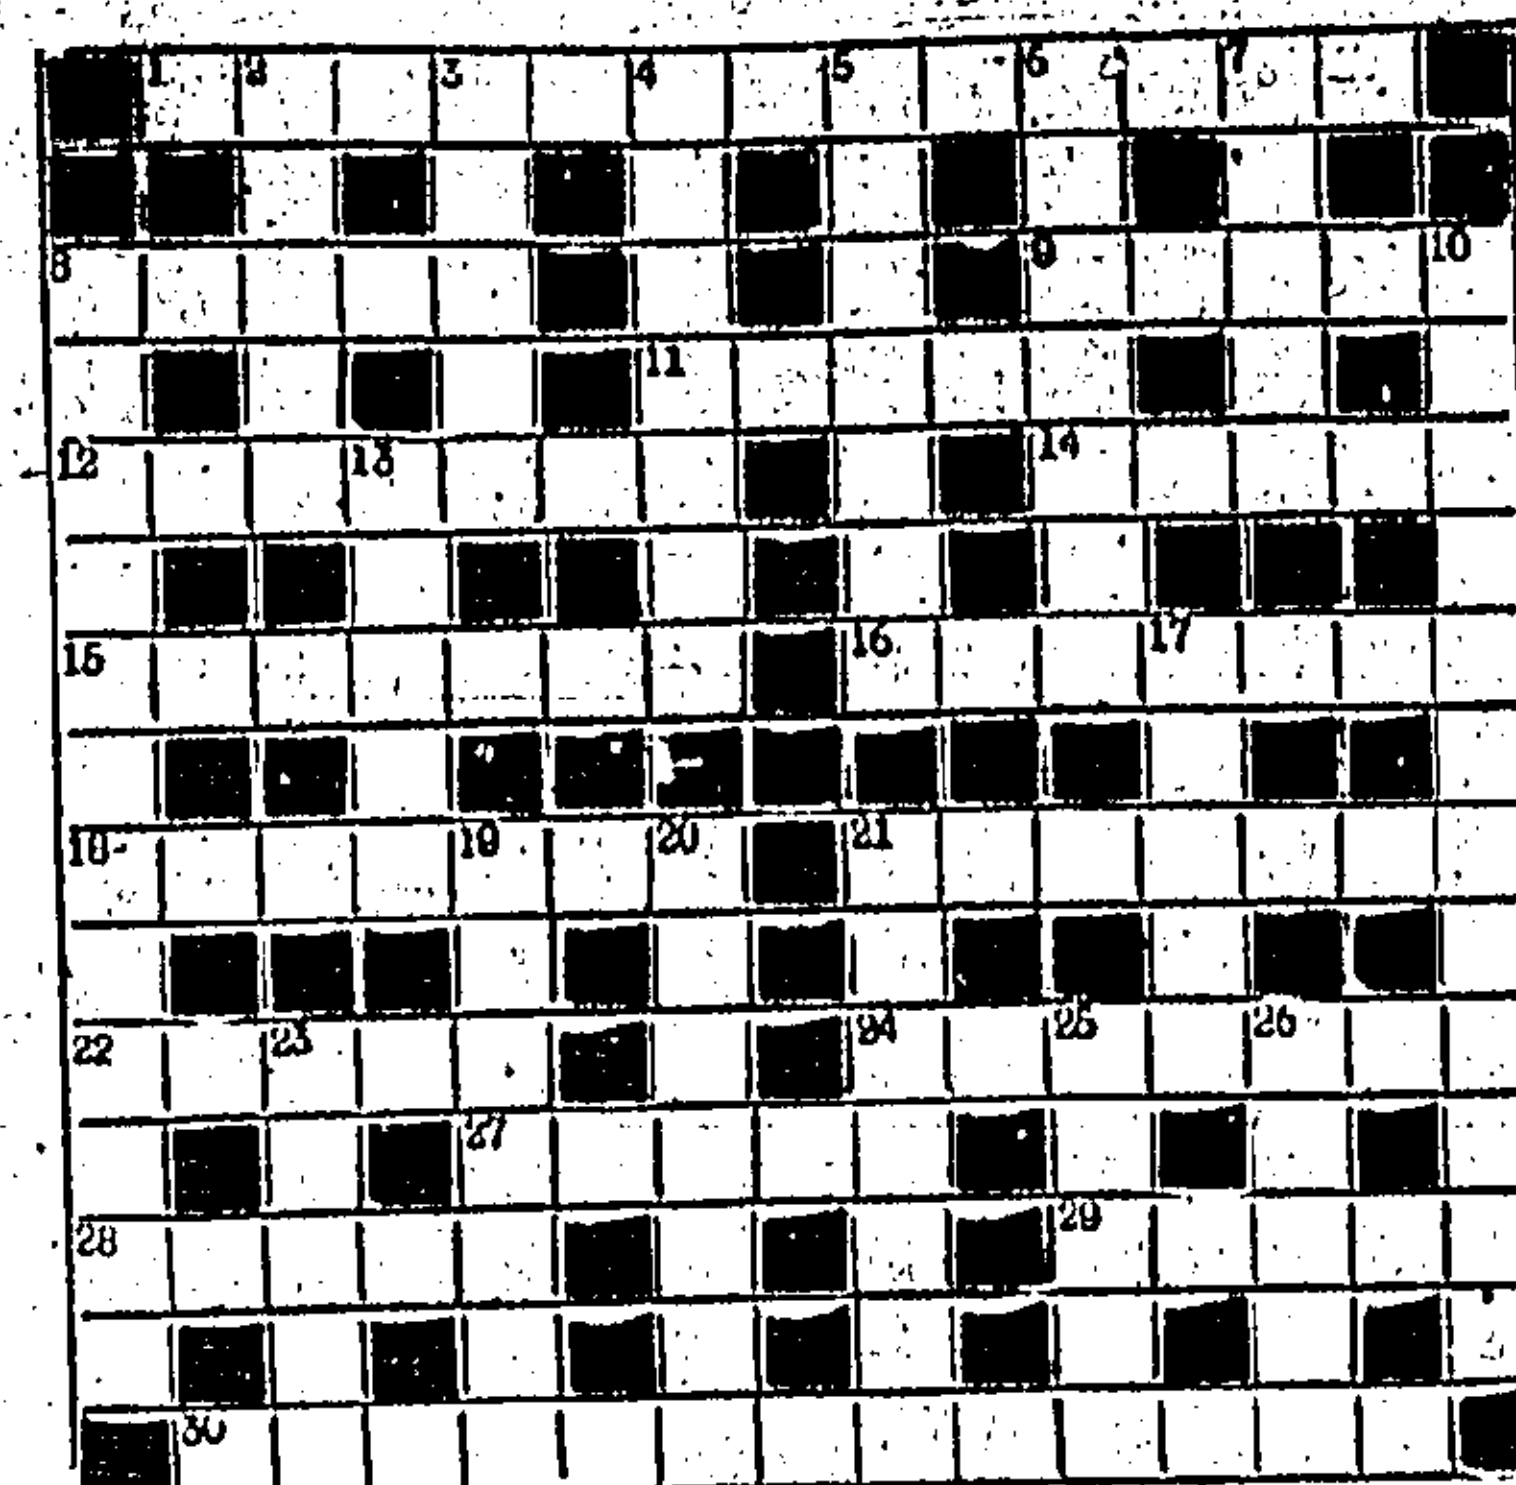

The resources of the post-office have been demonstrated at Alloway (Scotland), where a horse "handed in" for express delivery at an address in Ayr was duly delivered in charge of a special messenger for the exceedingly moderate fee of one shilling.

Even that, however, is not the strangest achievement of the kind on record by Scottish postal officials.

During the women's suffrage campaign Mr. Winston Churchill was holding a meeting in Dundee, when a young enthusiast, denied admittance to the hall, decided to get speech with the enemy next morning by subtler methods.

Pasterning a label on her breast addressed to Mr. Churchill at his

FEELS 50 lbs. SLIMMER

After Losing Only 5 lbs.

"I started taking Kruschen Salts a month ago," a young woman writes. "I have lost 5 lbs. in weight, and I feel as if I have lost 50 lbs. I am full of vigour, whereas before I was listless and worried over little things. But if my troubles were doubled, they would not worry me to-day—thanks to Kruschen." (Miss M.P.)

Here's the recipe that banishes fat—take one-half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast.

Be sure and do this every morning, for "It's the daily dose that takes off the fat." When you take Kruschen daily it means that every particle of poisonous waste matter and harmful acid and gases are expelled from the system.

Modify your diet, and take gentle exercise. The stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are tuned up, and the pure, fresh blood containing these salts is carried to every part of the body. Then follows "that Kruschen feeling" of energetic health and activity that is reflected in bright eyes, clear skin, cheerful vivacity and charming figure.

THE FUTURE OF
THE EMPIRE

The suggestion put forward
by Mr. George Lansbury that Britain should offer to pool the resources of the British Empire
with other nations, and establish an international commission to share the markets and raw materials available, comes at a moment when crises arise by reason of countries without large colonial possessions seeking an outlet for expansion. In that sense, it is an apposite idea, but whether it is capable of being put into operation remains open to doubt. Many important issues—economic, social and racial
—are involved in the suggestion,
not the least of which is the huge amount of money Britain has spent in developing the backward
regions of the earth, to say nothing of the security and protection which is assured
subject races under the British flag. The plan will need to be presented in far greater detail
before judgment can be passed on its merits. There is the further point, of course, that Britain could not alone embark
on such a plan; other nations
with colonial possessions would have to make their contribution.
Of the British Empire, it can be said without boasting that it is the most remarkable of the world
has ever seen, for it has renewed itself in new nations which have only just begun to run their course. A former Lord Salisbury spoke of the British Empire as a vast experiment, the future of which no man could foresee. But, as has well been pointed out, this obscurity is no
good reason why those who follow the builders of the Empire
and now sustain it should not put their best work into it, in the faith that that work will endure in some shape or form,
even though the future structure of the Empire may undergo changes dictated by new factors
as they arise. This much is certain, namely, that the Empire is closer knit together
to-day than at any time in its history. Those who have built on the foundations laid in times
gone by have been wise in their day and generation. They have worked on the principle of making the Empire a real commonwealth of nations, all
animated by the same ideals,
each a complementary part of the whole, working in unison and
owing allegiance to one common head. Here we have the most

NOTES OF THE DAY

POWERFUL ALLY

There is probably much about Russia, and things Russian,
which democratic people of this age find it impossible to admire or even to condone. To the minds of many, Russian Communism is an ever-present menace to the peace
of the world and the doctrine of world revolution a constant irritant. We are inclined to agree that, considered from one standpoint, Russia is less a friend of the old-established order of things than an enemy. Avowedly the Comin-tern seeks to disrupt such economic and social systems as that which Britain owns and loves. But,
equally apparent is it that Russia
is determined to safeguard the integrity and independence of the smaller nations . . . at least from Fascist domination. How far that policy is dictated by idealism and faith in the League of Nations we do not need to question at this juncture. Suffice it that at this moment the League has found a powerful ally in Moscow, and if,
as many predict, the strength of the League is to be tested by Italian
militarists the statesmen at Geneva
must have taken heart from M.
Litvinoff's outspoken statement of policy. M. Litvinoff, we think, has done much to harden the League of Nations' attitude by declaring that there is no longer any excuse
for military action on the part of Italy in Ethiopia. He has pointed out that the Unalut incident, which Italy made the excuse for warlike preparations, has been settled, with no blame attached to either side involved. He has stated that Italy's invitation to the League to declare
its disinterestedness in the Italo-Ethiopian quarrel was tantamount
to asking the nations to repudiate their own sacred obligations. He has given the Russian view that internal conditions, no matter how unsettled, cannot deprive a state of its
right to integrity and independence,
and has declared that the League
should stand firm on the principle
that no fighting should occur except in actual self-defence. In this Britain and Russia apparently stand side by side. The French policy has already been made plain.
The Scandinavian countries, the Little Entente, Spain and Turkey
all have agreed that an Italian invasion of Ethiopia is unwarranted and inexcusable. Surely this weight of world opinion should be sufficient to dissuade Signor Mussolini from a perilous course.

ANOTHER MATTER

However, while we applaud the Russian stand in the matter of collective peace machinery and welcome her support of the League of Nations Covenant, which we believe is the only thing standing between us and chaos, we cannot but feel that her policy is somewhat inconsistent. On the one hand we have heard M. Litvinoff speak of the sanctity of treaties and the rights
of the small nations, and the League's responsibility in their protection, while on the other the voices of those radical gentlemen
who attended the recent sessions
of the Comintern still ring in our ears. They preach the doctrine of world revolution. They would destroy the institutions which other peoples have taken years to build and which they value as they do
their freedom of thought and action. Such was the nature of the Comintern's recent discussion that it aroused protests from the capitals of many great nations,
notably the United States, Britain,
and Japan. How can we reconcile the Russian aim at over-throwing
our democracies with the stout-hearted expression of loyalty to Geneva which M. Litvinoff has uttered? If the "internal conditions"
of one state are no excuse for interference on the part of another, the rule holds for all. If Italy has no right to try to impose its will upon Ethiopia, and Moscow has declared
it, how can the Soviet statesmen excuse their agents' tampering with the affairs of other people, striving to achieve a revolution, to hamper
the efforts at recovery from economic ailments which others are attempting everywhere. M. Litvinoff, that shrewd diplomat, has left himself open to the suspicions
of the "bourgeois" that in backing
the League he is blocking Fascism,
and that that is his main purpose.

striking example history has furnished of a free association
of nations, linked together in bonds of sympathy and community of thought and outlook.
The concepts of Empire have changed greatly, but ever in the direction of emphasising the freedom of association and enlarging the opportunities for mutually beneficial contact between the different units. The adaptability of the system is its strength, and it surely assures
a future even greater than the record of the past.

IS EDEN BRITAIN'S
"STRONG MAN?"

By GERALD BARRY

FOR too many disillusioning
years we have suffered from an utter lack of leadership, of anyone to say out plainly and boldly,
either here at home or in the councils of the nations, what the common people of this land think and feel, but have not the means to make known.

What we need desperately is someone to interpret the national
mind with indubitable authority;
someone who will hold our respect
and the respect of other nations too.
Is Mr. Anthony Eden, the Secretary of State for League Affairs,
to be that man?

Last week, at Geneva, it was he,
and—at the end—he almost alone,
who upheld the authority of the League to handle the Italo-Abyssinian dispute and ensured that next month the Powers shall still have an opportunity to save themselves and the collective system.

Indeed, in his broadcast talk after
the conference he recommitted this country in emphatic terms to its obligations under the Covenant.
This was an instance of his courage.
Whether these obligations are met
when the time comes depends on the attitude of his fellow-Ministers
in the Cabinet. Will they share his courage? And, if not—what then?

His enemies in the Cabinet are powerful. They will not surrender easily to his view. Most prominent
if not most powerful among them
all is James Ramsay MacDonald,
P.C., M.P., that great inter-
nationalist and one-time pacifist and conscientious objector. This man, who, until other allegiances claimed him, spent a life-time in supporting the cause of inter-
nationalism, is now—if trustworthy
report is correct—most active among Cabinet Ministers in opposition to Britain's honouring her obligations under the Covenant in the Italo-Abyssinian dispute.

Mr. Eden will need all his reserves of courage and persuasion if his view is to triumph on September
4. If, as may easily happen, he fails,
there will be no occasion for him
to despair. He has already immense backing in the country. The eleven-and-a-half millions who voted for the Peace Ballot will not forget
or desert him.

Were he to make the matter
one of principle—which it most certainly is—and, if he is overruled in the Cabinet, to resign, it is possible he might stir the country to one of those rare demonstrations of its loyalty and convictions.

If, at the worst, he were forced into the wilderness, he could be sure of coming back within a couple of years an immensely more powerful man. More powerful, because political power proceeds from political backing, and an open showdown on the League issue over Abyssinia might be the signal for

just that welding together of the anxious but desperate forces of peace within the country which would give them that cohesion and driving force for lack of which they now disappoint their supporters
and leave the field open to the reactionaries.

Somewhere I read the other day
a letter from a French woman expressing her astonishment and disgust at British acquiescence in Italy's smash and grab at the Abyssinians. Not so, she remarked, had British upholders of freedom
and justice conducted themselves
in past history.

I am afraid this French woman
was right. We have lost the noble indignation of men of character.
But it is character alone that will make British prestige again preeminent in the world's councils—
as it did in the nineteenth century.

This country is waiting for leadership to rehabilitate it, within
and without, and when this leadership comes it will have to appeal to the moral force of the nation—
and I believe the response will be overwhelming.

I put this to a leading Labour
Parliamentary leader the other day and he smiled at the idea.
"We've tried the sob-stuff often enough," he said. He didn't convince me of my error; on the contrary, he convinced me of his own.
I was not asking for "sob-stuff"—
far from it—and his complete misunderstanding of my meaning struck me as most significant.

The Labour Party is missing the bus as completely as the rest. I do not know where this revitalising
force will come from, but I know that it will come. When it comes it will have to harness practical idealism—an appeal to sacrifice
and the desire for service
and common effort—to the working plans of reconstruction
and international security
that have already been propounded
in abundance. Then, and then only,
shall we begin to get a move on,
out of the slime in which we now
flounder.

No bigger mistake is made in our day than the belief that people are only ready to serve for what they can get out of it. The old-timers make the error of judging
by their own standards. Times are changing, and human nature
with them: there is a growing
sense of obligation to the community—surely Socialists, at least,
can appreciate that?

Anthony Eden is a man who speaks with the authority of moral conviction; that is why he may be great. The people of Britain are ready enough to respond to the authentic call, but they must be given the lead.

"Wanted, a Leader" is the notice
that hangs unanswered in the front
window of every home in Britain.

BULLS AND INNERS

From the Office Butts

"Sir M. Campbell's Big Feet,"
says a local poster. None the less,
we understand that he only takes size 8.

"Hongkong Loan Works," says a newspaper heading. It usually does; it's the repayment that often doesn't.

She's really most attractive:
Of poise and mien fine.
She's perfect—yet inactive.
As bright as sparkling wine.
Although a woman hater,
She's the only girl I've seen
Who causes me to rate her
As my model and my queen.
I've seen her off in undies,
In furs and raincoats too;
Whether week-days or on Sundays.

She's just the same and true.
In bridal dress she's stunning, (She's the world's most frequent bride.)

And she doesn't seem to mind it;
No blushes she to hide.
I've never seen her walking,
Might be dainty—or a waddle.
Perhaps you'll think I'm baulk-
ing—
She's Mayfair's waxen model!

Hongkong goals are still overcrowded, according to the annual report of the Superintendent of Prisons. So there are no vacancies
even there.

We read that it's only the female mosquito that bites. Let's hope the male never strives for equality.

According to an economist, money is the controlling force. With many of us, it's a spent force.

Fifty thousand Boy Scouts recently went into camp at Home.
The excitement was in tents.

Extract from provincial paper:
"Not an eye but was filled with moist tears." We understand that moist tears are the worst.

The Hongkong Magistracy, with an expenditure of $78,000, collected $106,000 in fines last year. That's one business which is doing well,
anyhow.

The Week's Silver Review

Judging from a recent local
"Personal" advertisement, a certain person is all in favour of Travel Association!

What's the difference between
a mannequin at Lane, Crawford's
and a bus conductor? None.
They're both quick-change artists!

The Lido Lady is certainly in the swim these days!

Jelly-bugs have once again
appeared at our bathing beaches,
as many a poor fish has discovered.

An advertiser recently offered
"a lady dog" for sale. Presumably he or she would call a common
or garden hen a lady-bird!

We met a man last week-end,
who was stung twice in one day;
once by a jellyfish, and the other
time by a pal who wanted the loan of fifty dollars.

A summer love affair is like a coat of tan; it soon wears off, and
each year you've got to get a new one.

These sporting items get us all dizzy. A New York writer says Minnesota has the best eleven in the Big Ten.

According to a scientist, the moon throws back radio waves
from the earth. Well, who can blame it?

The world's fastest runner has just been married. So you see,
men, it's no use.

"Oh, don't worry about them. They know better than to repeat any gossip they hear."

A LOCAL HYDRO

SPECIALISED TREATMENT ON KARLSBAD LINES

The famous curative and corrective treatment which have made the name "Karlsbad" famous throughout the world, are now available in Hongkong at the newly-opened Hydro-therapeutic establishment situated on the third floor of King's Building, under the direction of Mr. L. Knige.

The new Hydro has been furnished and equipped with every modern appliance employed in this highly specialised work, there being facilities for douche massage, Hanovia lamp treatment, effleurage, medical, steam, hot air, vapour, electric, electric-radio baths, etc.

The Karlsbad system claims to effect reduction in weight by highly scientific principles and generally tones up the system and corrects the internal organs. The Hydro is equipped with a large and well arranged gymnasium where patients are directed in various forms of exercises indicated according to their individual requirements.

It must not be assumed that only gymnastics are employed, for the exercises advised are but a part of an intensive treatment which includes correct dieting in particular conditions.

Most people are aware that there is a standard weight which specialists have decided to be ideal for various heights, and one of the objects of the Karlsbad treatment is to remove superfluous fat which so frequently causes ill-health. In other words, the Hydro-therapeutic aims at restoring people to normal weight and bodily condition, and since its opening, a number of well-known local residents have derived considerable benefit.

Mr. Knige states that several local doctors have inspected the Hydro, and have expressed the opinion that the establishment will serve a most useful purpose in the Colony. Residents are invited to call and make an inspection, when the various systems and equipment will be explained.

CANTON CEMETERY

MOHAMMEDANS ANGRY OVER EXCAVATION OF GRAVES

Canton, Sept. 6.
The excavation of hundreds of graves in the Mohammedan Cemetery at Lau Fah Kiu, in the Shipak suburb of Canton, by workers of a certain Chinese investment and construction company has caused indignation in the Mohammedan community in Canton. The Chinese Mohammedan Association in Canton has formally protested.

The petitioners pointed out that the Mohammedan Cemetery has existed for over 1500 years since the beginning of the Tang Dynasty. In recognition of the Chinese Mohammedans' meritorious assistance to the Nationalist movement the late Dr. Sun Yat-sen, while he was Generalissimo in Canton in 1924, assigned a number of hills surrounding the Cemetery as Mohammedan property. A similar sanction was issued by the late Governor, Mr. Liao Chung-kai, together with a permanent lease permit from the Provincial Treasurer. The graveyards were destroyed when the construction company workers built new roads near the Cemetery in connection with their project. The Mohammedans have taken legal proceedings against the construction company.

CINEMA NEWS

NOTES FROM THE THEATRES

The question of what to do if suddenly unemployed, is answered in "Calm Yourself," the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, next change at the Queen's Theatre, with Robert Taylor and Madge Evans teamed in the leading roles. The swift comedy drama deals with a young man who, having been out of his fiancée's father's advertising firm, starts an agency of his own—"Calm Yourself" and guarantees to handle any problem, no matter how delicate, for its clients. This leads to the amusing situations enacted by Betty Flanagan, Ralph Morgan, Nat Pendleton, Harold Albright and others in the support of the popular team.

"Our Daily Bread" It took an Indiana farmer to make corn sprout before the camera, by working with nature when the technical experts were unable to satisfy King Vidor during the filming of "Our Daily Bread," which depicts the romance of a young couple who settle on an abandoned farm and work out their tangled destinies under the open sky. Otto Whitte, the first agricultural expert ever to serve on a motion picture staff, turned the trick. He planted several boxes of sandy loam to Yellow Dent corn. To make it actually pop through on schedule, he irrigated it two days before the time for sprouting and then put the boxes in the sun. This resulted in a picture which is a study in the cause of ill-health. In other words, the Hydro-therapeutic aims at restoring people to normal weight and bodily condition, and since its opening, a number of well-known local residents have derived considerable benefit.

Mr. Knige states that several local doctors have inspected the Hydro, and have expressed the opinion that the establishment will serve a most useful purpose in the Colony. Residents are invited to call and make an inspection, when the various systems and equipment will be explained.

placet in such featured players as Franchot Tone, Charlie Ruggles, Edna May Oliver, Gail Patrick and Reginald Denny. "No More Ladies" is definitely one of the best pictures of the year.

"Our Little Girl" A well-known feminine star, of more than tender years, gave recently a number of reasons why Shirley Temple is the world's happiest actress. "Just think, she need not know or care what critics say," the elder player said. "Making a motion picture is just play for her, and she romps through it all with delight. Also, it will be long before anyone dares utter a breath of scandal about Shirley. She is spared ordinary worries. Clothes and social obligations are centred on dolls, stuffed dogs and her pets. Then, too, Shirley didn't have to seek a career. The picture makers sought her out, once her great natural ability was proved. In Shirley's case were not weary rounds of casting offices, studios, agencies and such. Someone saw her give an imitation and also observed how she heard a song over the radio and reported it. The Temples were asked to bring her to a studio making two short comedies. The rest is movie history. One night they were to preview one of these comedies at a suburban theatre. Shirley and her mother were approached in the lobby by one who had witnessed the preview. He asked them to come next day to the Fox Film studio. Shirley, hand-picked by the studio, was to play the part in "Stand Up and Cheer." She made a hit, and a long-term contract followed. "Our Little Girl," Shirley's new Fox Film picture, showing to-day at the King's Theatre, represents the best story selected by producer Edward Butler from several hundred novels and short stories. The child star sings "Our Little Girl." The supporting cast consists of Rosemary Ames, Joel McCrea, Lyle Talbot, Eric O'Brien, Moore, Jack Donohue, Poodles Hanneford, Gus Vnn, Margaret Armstrong, Rita Quinn, Leonard Carey, J. Farrell Macdonald and Jack Boxley.

The annual Licensing Session is to be held at the Council Chamber at 3.30 p.m. on November 8.

The number of emigrants leaving the Colony for the Straits Settlements during the month of August was 5,490.

Under the Companies (Winding-Up) Ordinance it is notified that a first and final dividend of $1.61 per cent. has been declared in the case of the Luen Lung Food & Salt Fish Firm.

His Excellency the Officer Administering the Government has been pleased to recognise, provisionally and pending instructions from the Secretary of State for the Colonies, Dr. G. D. R. Black, O.B.E., as Honorary Consul for Cuba at Hongkong.

The Government is inviting tenders for the erection of blocks of flats for married officers and a hostel for single officers at the new Canal at Stanley, as well as for the erection of additional quarters for gardeners at the entrance lodge of Kowloon Hospital.

The board of examiners of the International Institute of Inventors, which has its head office at Sydney, Australia, has written to the Hongkong office of the Institute confirming the recent successes of local candidates in the June intermediate examination. Mr. Tso Chak-chun has received first place and the president's gold medal which is awarded to the best candidate from the East. It will be recalled that the vice-president's gold medal was won last December by Mr. Thomas K. Young, another local student. The board also confirm that second place has gone to Mr. Pau Ka-lin, and third place to Mr. Young Kong-low, while Messrs. Pau Ka-ling and Alfred Fong passed with honours.

INEFFICIENT UMPIRING IN LOCAL BOWLS MATCHES

A. D. NOURSE

NOURSE TO REMAIN IN ENGLAND?

SOUTH AFRICAN CRICKETER

MAY PLAY SOCCER IN LIVERPOOL

A. D. Nourse, the South African Test cricketer, may play for Liverpool F. C. next season. He has a great reputation as a half-back in South Africa, and if he shows up well in a trial at Anfield next month, it is likely the Liverpool club will sign him. Cricket contracts under which the South Africans came to this country do not allow any of them to take part seriously in other games until the tour programme is completed. Then there is an interval of about three weeks before the players leave for home.

SWIMMING TITLE

Wainwright Retains Half Mile Championship

Norman Wainwright (Hanely A.S.C.) scored his third successive win in the English half-mile swimming championship when he beat R. H. Leivers, of London, the champion of 1932, by a foot, after a thrilling race, witnessed by 12,000 people at Scarborough. Wainwright and Leivers led in turn, but there was never more than six feet between the pair. This is the fourth National title Wainwright has won this season. His time was 10 min. 51.2-sec., only 1.2-sec. outside his own British record for the distance. Leivers' time was 10 min. 52-sec. A. H. Pearman (Otter S.C.) was third in 11 min. 41.3-sec. F. G. M. Milton (Otter S.C.) and J. L. Middleton (Westminster Handsworth S.C.) did not compete.

REFEREES WHO HAVE NO IDEA OF THE ART

SOME GLARING INCIDENTS SEEN IN CHAMPIONSHIP GAMES

NEED FOR ACTION BY HONGKONG LAWN BOWLS ASSOCIATION

(By "Sagax")

The local Lawn Bowls championships are now quickly drawing to a close with both the Pairs and Rinks competitions already decided. Another fortnight and the Singles event will be concluded as it has already reached the semi-final stage, with both matches fixed for next week and the final, probably the week after.

There is one thing which has struck me most forcibly in the local championships during the past season and that is the question of umpiring. I say without fear of contradiction that in many instances the gentleman officiating at certain of the games has left much to be desired and has shown a complete lack of the knowledge of umpiring.

This is an important point and I think the Association might make it their duty next season to see that championship matches are not marred by inferior refereeing. Faults are present not only in umpires of singles matches but in the officials of pairs and rinks fixtures as well and in the latter instances I very reluctantly have to criticise referees who were officially appointed by the Association.

Fortunately it is to the big minority of umpires that these remarks are addressed and not to all the gentlemen who have given up so much of their time in consenting to take charge of any particular game.

THE WORST OFFENDER

One of the worst offenders against the rules of umpiring was seen in a Singles match in which the umpire did everything that was against the instructions to the umpiring except to congratulate the winner and commiserate with the loser at the end of the game.

Recently there was published in the Hongkong Telegraph a long and instructive article on umpiring by G. T. Burrows, the well-known English writer and player.

For the edification of umpires I will quote a small paragraph by Burrows, who writes:

"If every referee would make up his mind not to stand behind the jack, not to run into the head after every wood has come to its place, but to retire to one of the strings, and from there give his decisions so far as possible, he would be going a long way towards becoming a perfect official. When three or four woods have been delivered it will become necessary for him to leave his string position and to go in among the woods to be able to answer the question, 'Which is shot?' or to give any decision as to how far short, or over, a certain bowl is. He should not move into the head, or away from the head, if either player is on the mat, and in the act of delivering. To jump in or out of a head when one of the players is in the act of sending up a wood, is the most disconcerting thing which can happen. The referee, therefore, if he is going near the woods, should hold up a warning hand to the players, should make his decision quickly, and announce it in a loud voice."

ANSWERING QUESTIONS

FIRST TO REACH 2,000 RUNS

FRANK WOOLLEY IN FORM

FEAT PERFORMED AT HASTINGS

(By FRANK THOROGOOD)

Hastings, Aug. 12. Much has been written about the music of bat and ball, but with all deference to the Hastings Cricket Festival the best melody of the day for the general public and for gardeners in particular was the patter of the rain.

It came at first like a gentle benediction when Frank Woolley was engaged in completing his fifth century of the year and the cricket suffered a number of interruptions before the left-hander was able to reach the magic figures.

Round about lunch time the lightning, jealous of Woolley's art, flashed into the picture and peals of thunder played the heavy father to a disconsolate crowd.

It was after the interval when Woolley gained his two objectives, first the completion of his 2,000 runs for the season and then his century in the same over.

So far he has hit two 6's, one off Tate, the other off Wensley, and eight 4's.

Soon after Woolley's century had been reached the music ordered by the public doctor was again heard. This time the rain left a very serious impression on the turf, and at half-past three play for the day was abandoned.

Meantime Tate had been able to secure his 100th wicket of the year.

Apart from Woolley, who has now scored two centuries this summer against Sussex, there is not much to add about the rest of the cricket, which lasted in all about two hours.

ASHDOWN SOON OUT

Ashdown, who played a delightful innings of 81 on Saturday, had only scored one more run when he was taken at the wicket in the second over of the day.

Most of his ten 4's were made on the off side, and his partnership with Woolley for the second wicket added 62.

Another alliance with the top scorer added 73 and in this case Todd was in partnership.

INITIAL LOSS

SOUTH AFRICANS LOSE AT CHELTENHAM

GLOUCESTER'S FEAT

London, Aug. 12. At Cheltenham (First Day).—The South Africans, with six wickets in hand, are 135 runs behind Gloucestershire.

A splendid century innings by Sinfield, his fourth this season, enabled Gloucestershire to make the useful score of 270 in roughly four hours. Under a blazing sun and on a fast pitch Gloucestershire maintained a fine rate of scoring, but the tail-end batsmen failed when a big total seemed possible.

Balaskins, who has not played since the second Test match at Lord's, returned and had the opportunity of giving his injured arm a thorough test. The slow bowler was kept on for lengthy spells in the great heat, and often he turned the ball appreciably. The ball that beat Hammond was a particularly good one, a leg-break simply humming off the pitch. Hammond took only 36 minutes to obtain 38 out of 57 put on for the second wicket.

Four men were out for 124 when Neale joined Sinfield in a fifth-wicket which yielded 102 in the excellent time of 70 minutes.

Sinfield, who fell to a finely-judged catch at deep square leg, stayed three hours and was always at ease with the bowling. He drove and hit to leg with certainty, sending the ball to the boundary twelve times.

Neale batted only eighty minutes for his 61, and then in forty minutes the four outstanding Gloucestershire wickets fell for 36.

The South Africans lost Mitchell and Rowan for 63, while Nourse and Siddle were got rid of cheaply. Viljoen, however, thoroughly mastered the bowling. So far he has scored his 64 out of 101 in 80 minutes.

The attendance was 7,140, and the receipts £768 7s. 9d.

VILJOEN'S CENTURY

London, Aug. 13. At Cheltenham (Second Day).—The South African need 259 in their second innings to beat Gloucestershire.

Another enthusiastic crowd—quite 8,000—thoroughly enjoyed the festival cricket provided yesterday.

The tourists, thanks to a splendid century by Viljoen, averaged over 70 runs an hour to head Gloucestershire's total by ten. Then Gloucestershire, making the most of their opportunity before the pitch had a chance of crumbling, in 85 minutes after lunch actually obtained 160 runs.

Barnett, with a six—the first of the match—and five 4's to his credit, claimed 46 of the first 64 runs in 37 minutes.

Hammond, in reaching 60 in 47 minutes, and Lyon fairly collared the bowling, adding 80 for the third wicket in 45 minutes.

Hammond completed his fourth hundred of the season in an hour and three-quarters. Seldom has he batted better or hit the ball harder. In this innings, which was quite free from any blemish, Hammond specialised in driving and late cutting. He made 64 of his 123 by boundary hits.

TOURISTS BEATEN

London, Aug. 14. Beaten in their last seven county matches, Gloucestershire yesterday accomplished the performance of the cricket season by administering to the South Africans their first defeat this tour. Except that the county had choice of first innings, there was no luck about it—it was a great triumph of team work.

The South Africans were given all day in which to get 280 to win, and with 160 runs on the board and only three men out, all seemed to be going well.

At that total Sinfield took the ball from Goddard, and that was the beginning of the end. In his first over he completely changed the fortunes of the match by taking two wickets without conceding a run.

Rowan fell to a head-high catch at short-leg off the fourth ball, and the sixth delivery came in from the off and found Cameron's pads—a very valuable wicket considering the wicketkeeper's hard-hitting reputation. Rowan batted 56 minutes.

THREE OUT AT 162

Parker was relieved for the first time at 163, and Hammond with the first ball of his second over proved too much for Viljoen, whose innings was also ended by a new leg-before decision. So six wickets were down for 170.

Back came Goddard for Sinfield at 182, a total the South Africans will long remember, for Dalton, Balaskins and Crisp were all out at that score. Vincent prolonged the end awhile and hit a six, but next ball Sinfield had him caught at the wicket, and the match was all over.

The crowd surged over the ground and cheered and, in response to a call for a speedy Page, the Gloucestershire captain said:

"If you have enjoyed the match as much as I have, come and see us again."

D. A. C. Page handled his attack so successfully that every time he made a change. In the closing stages the new bowler justified himself. Indeed, the captaincy of Gloucester-

HAMMOND MAKES CENTURY

GENTLEMEN DRAW WITH PLAYERS

London, Sept. 6. Rain prevented the cricket match between the Gentlemen and the Players at Folkestone from reaching a definite decision, the game ending in a fairly even draw after the professional cricketers of England had twice declared their innings.

Wally Hammond, the Gloucestershire professional, was the outstanding player of the match, scoring 106 runs for the Players, whose first innings was declared closed at 270 for six wickets.

The Gentlemen replied with a total of 171 and when the Players had made another 104 for four wickets they again declared but at the close of play the Gentlemen had 99 for five wickets.

Yorkshire won the match against the M. C. C. at Scarborough by one wicket.

In taking first knock the M. C. C. side put up a total of 170, Smallean taking five for 68, while Yorkshire had 239 runs on the board. Of these Hutton scored 92 while A. D. Baxter had seven wickets for 52 runs.

The M. C. C. second innings realised 226, Bowes taking five for 64, while Yorkshire knocked up 168 for nine wickets, R. E. S. Wyatt capturing seven for 87.

Essex won the last county championship match of the season against Kent at Ilford by 137 runs after scoring only 97 in the first innings when Watt had six for 49.

To this total Kent replied with a score of 195 but when the Essex batsmen went to the wickets a second time O'Connor made 139 to enable the side to put up 394 runs. Kent's second innings yielded 159.

The following are the final positions of the leading teams in the County Championship:

	Percentage.
Yorkshire	71.33
Derby	63.33
Middlesex	56.11
Lancashire	54.04

The South Africans beat a team drawn from the Minor Counties by eight wickets at Skegness.

The South Africans made 394, Viljoen making 168 and Rowan 115. In their first innings the Minor Counties totalled 190, Crisp taking 5 wickets for 60, while in their second venture, though they did a little better, in getting 224, Crisp again proved their main cause of downfall, taking four wickets for 60.

The visitors hit off the needed 21 runs for two wickets.—Reuters

NO. 11 DERBY

HUGH GALLACHER
OR BOWERS?

(By Charles Buchan).

London, Aug. 8. Until the practice matches have been played the public will not know how Derby County's attack will be constituted—probably even Manager George Jobey is also in the dark.

Crooks, England's outside right, and Duncan, Scotland's outside left, are naturally first choices for the wing positions, but two newcomers were signed during the close season: Boyd, from Newcastle United, and Summers, from Leicester City.

What is to be done about centre-forward? Hughie Gallacher arrived because Bowers, England's leader, was having a knee cartilage removed. Possibly Bowers will add strength to the line as an inside right to the eclipse of Groves, who lacks weight, and of Stockill, who was badly damaged last season.

The inside-left berth will be filled by either Ramage or Napier, the new arrival from Celtic, who played for Scotland against Wales in the position. Whatever the final selection, there is promise of a powerful attack.

With Nicholas, Barker, Keen and Hann available, the halves do not appear to need strengthening. Collins, who broke a collar bone last April, is sound and ready again to partner the less experienced Udall at full-back, but another young left back appears to be needed.

As a challenger to Kirby in goal there is Scattergood, experienced with Stoke City and Bristol City, and deadly keen to make good in the place at one time brilliantly occupied by his father. The club is ready to start the season with 34 professionals.

NO. 12-READING

There is an air of optimism in Reading circles just now, and if paper form counts for anything, this optimism is fully justified.

Last season Reading were runners-up in the League and but for a series of injuries incurred, might have done even better.

Twenty-one of last season's players have been re-signed, 18 of whom at some time or other figured in the first team. In addition four players of considerable experience have been secured. These are R. Done, a back from Liverpool; J. Paterson, inside-forward from Leicester City; C. F. Keetley, inside-forward from Bradford

THE ART OF UMPIRING IN BOWLS

FAULTS IN SOME LOCAL REFEREES

demands that umpires shall not run into a head after every wood is delivered. I have noticed instances where an umpire has run into a head to see who lies the shot, merely for his own information, without there having been any request whatever from a player.

The question of answering queries is also an important one. Umpires should only answer what questions are asked. Often when a player asks "Which is the shot?" the umpire will reply, pointing to the shot, "That's the shot, you are lying two and that is the third shot." All that the player was asked was which was the shot and his only answer should have been "That is the shot."

On one occasion an umpire voluntarily informed a player that he was lying two when the player concerned did not even pretend to desire any information.

FOTT-FAULT RULE

In Pairs and Rinks matches these self-same faults do not arise as the players are skilful by members of their own sides and the umpire has comparatively little to do, but that little is not always done as it should be.

I am now referring to the common practice in Hongkong of foot-faulting. In singles matches this is not noticeable by the umpire unless two officials are appointed, one to watch for foot-faults.

In Pairs and Rinks matches, however, the official usually sits among the spectators and only makes his presence known when any measuring is to be done. Personally I think the official should also watch for foot-faults and direct that woods be stopped if the player has infringed the rules of the game.

During a rink match recently I took particular notice of foot faults and at least three players were constantly bowling without having one foot entirely on the mat. There seems to be a great reluctance among bowlers to foot-fault a player. Why that should be is difficult to explain. Does the umpire think he will embarrass a player by foot-faulting him? If so I think the idea is absurd.

Umpires in lawn tennis foot-fault a player unhesitatingly if the server stands on the service line while a cricket umpire will equally readily no-ball a bowler if he infringes the laws of the game and there is never any embarrassment felt by either party.

These questions may well be given serious thought by the Association with a view to having them checked in future.

The Hongkong Graduates' Association will hold their fortnightly bathing picnic to-morrow. The launch will leave Queen's Pier as usual at 3 p.m. A large attendance is expected.

City; and F. Briggs, from Rotherham United, who is a forward or half-back.

Mr. Joe Smith, the manager, states: "Our prospects are bright. We have kept all the players who carried us to so high a position last season and have strengthened one or two weak spots."

It certainly would appear that during the forthcoming encounter Reading's team will be a happy blend of youth and experience.

SERIAL STORY

One I Love

by LAURA LOU
BROOKMAN

BEGIN HERE TO-DAY

JANET HILL, GRANT's fiancée, with ROLF CARLISLE after learning he has been going out with BETTY KENDALL, a society girl. Janet is secretary to BRUCE HAMILTON, advertising manager of Every Home Magazine, and Rolf is employed in an advertising office.

Janet is still much in love with Rolf and, though she tries, can not forget him. One night on a street car she meets JEFFREY, a young engineer who has recently returned to the rooming-house where she lives. She does not see Grant again for some time. Then on a stormy March evening she walks down a street that is unfamiliar and almost loses her way. Coming back she sees a child trying to open a door. The little girl is ROSIE SILVANI. Janet buys her a hot meal and sets out afterward to take her home. She sees a dark street when a man catches Janet's arm and demands her purse. Rosie screams and suddenly Jeff Grant appears. The holder man runs and Grant takes Janet and Rosie to the little girl's home in his car. They talk to PAT SILVANI, Rosie's father, who has been out of work for nearly two years. The family is almost destitute. On the way home Janet and Jeffrey decide to "adopt" the Silvani.

Jeffrey, the next afternoon, Jeff has found temporary work for Pat and gives Mrs. Silvani money to pay the rent so that the family will not be depressed.

Coming home he says to Janet, "I wonder if you would do something for me?"

CHAPTER XIX

Janet smiled. "Why, of course," she said. "That is, if it's anything I can do!"

"I was going to ask if you'd have dinner with me," Grant told her. "Afterward we might drop in to see a movie, or perhaps drive."

The girl wasn't smiling now but there was more to the sudden change in her face than that. "I'm sorry," she said. "Here's—I've made an engagement. I'm awfully sorry but I'll have to keep it."

Grant nodded. "My bad luck," he said. "I should have asked you sooner, of course."

He talked about other things until they reached the rooming house. He left Janet thinking as he called good-by, and drove away. Janet went in the house and up the stairs to her own room. There was no other engagement, of course. Nothing but dinner to be cooked over the two-burner gas stove and eaten alone. Nothing but the book from the library that so far hadn't interested her.

She tossed aside her hat and coat and sank into a chair. Well, it was better to be alone than to go out and pretend to be having a good time. She had tried that. The disastrous evening with Mollie Lambert and her friends!

Memories of other Saturday evenings came back to torment her—dinners here in this very room with Rolf across the table, dancing with Rolf at the Chinese restaurant, bus rides, walks in the moonlight, the time they went to Riverside Park and rode on the roller-coaster.

Presently Janet arose and began to prepare the meal. After she had eaten she washed the dishes, read two chapters in the library book and went to bed.

Whatever her worries may have been about Jeffrey Grant repeating his invitation, they proved groundless. She saw him several times the following week but always it was to consider the problems of the Silvani family. Jeffrey did not ask her again to have dinner with him. It was Janet herself who brought about their first social engagement and it happened in this way:

She telephoned his office Wednesday morning and when Grant's low-pitched voice came to her over the wire Janet said, "Mr. Grant? Oh, I'm so excited! I think I've found a job for Pat Silvani. Yes, a steady one. I want to tell you all about it. Do you suppose I could meet you somewhere at noon?"

Grant said, "Why yes, of course."

How about the Tavern Coffee Shop?

Could you be there at 12:30?" She could. She was waiting just inside the door of the restaurant when he swung into view. They found a table for two at the side of the room and Janet began to pour out her story breathlessly. She was so excited she could scarcely take time to order lunch. Could they drive out to the Silvani's home to-night? It was something—the job—that had to be settled right away!

Finally Grant got the straight of it. Janet had told Bruce Hamilton about their "adopted family" and he had been interested. Hamilton had made inquiries, carefully and thoroughly, in the Hamilton manner. One of the men who had been an officer in the building corporation employing Pat Silvani, two years before happened to be a member of one of Hamilton's clubs. He knew nothing of the workman but knew someone who did. It had taken very little effort to establish that Pat Silvani was a skilled, intelligent workman, that he was trust worthy and reliable.

Bruce Hamilton laughed about it. "I had to do something for the fellow," he explained. "I got my secretary's mind back on my affairs. She hasn't been thinking or talking about anything else for a week!"

What Hamilton had done was to find out that the Channing store was about to hire another watchman for their warehouse in the block next to the Every Home office. It was a steady job for which the main requirements were honesty and reliability. The pay would be $22.50 a week and Pat Silvani could have a chance at it if he would report to the employment office of the store next day.

Jeffrey Grant heard all this enthusiastically. "Why, sure!" he exclaimed. "We can drive out there right after work and tell him about it. Say, that's great! Swell of your boss to take such an interest. I'll get the car and stop around at your office for you."

It was settled next day that Pat Silvani was to have the job. He went to work that very night. Pat's voice choked up when he tried to tell Janet and Jeffrey how grateful he was. Rosie could stop going nights to scrub. She'd need to be home with the children and with $22.50 a week—regularly—they'd get along famously.

In fact the Silvani's seemed so well cared for, so settled in their new security that Janet and Jeffrey Grant might have had little reason to pay them another visit soon, except for one thing. The circus came to town. It was Jeffrey's idea but Janet instantly fell in with it. There were to be two Saturday performances—one in the afternoon and one in the evening. They made all the plans, even to consulting Mrs. Silvani, before Tommy and Rosie heard the news.

"Lord!" Jeffrey Grant said, "did you ever see two kids so excited? I thought Rosie's eyes were going to pop right out of her head!"

Janet laughed. "But she's never seen a circus. Tommy has and he's told her so much about it I'm almost afraid she'll be disappointed."

But Rosie wasn't disappointed and neither was Tommy, who found the new circus even more miraculous than the last. The day was exciting for the children from the moment they arose in the morning until, exhausted, they fell asleep. Rosie and Tommy were both dressed in their new clothes and waiting when Grant stopped the car before the door. It was a little crowded with all four of them in the roadster but they managed it. The ride in the automobile was a treat, particularly for Tommy, who so seldom left the house. The sight of the big tent sent Rosie into squeals of rapture and from then on the circus was an assured success.

They visited all the animals in the menagerie. They saw the lions, the elephants, the zebras and the baby camel that let Rosie touch its velvety nose. The hippopotamus fascinated Tommy and he could scarcely be moved from before the big cage until Jeffrey mentioned that it was time for the clowns to appear.

Then they went into the big tent and found their seats. It was a typical circus, beginning with the impressive pageantry of a parade depicting a Roman emperor's triumphant return from war. Immediately afterward the three rings became alive with action. There were prancing white horses with beautifully plumed tails and manes. Acrobats flew through the air, diving from breath-taking heights. There were trained seals and a dancing elephant and girls in slim tight who rode bareback, leaping through paper hoops, always to land in safety, howling and kissing their hands to the audience. There was the man who went into a cage with 12 snarling lions and cowed them into performing. All the while the band played and the ringmaster cracked his whip and boys wearing white caps went up and down the aisles shouting "Pop-corn and peanuts! Pop-corn and peanuts!"

Rosie and Tommy each had a bag of pop-corn and peanuts. Oh, yes, it was a wonderful circus! It was too bad when it was all over at last but even circus music end. Still there was one satisfaction for Rosie and Tommy Silvani—there was nothing on the entire lot that they had missed. The roadster made a return journey to the Silvani home and the children were still talking, tired but exuberant, when Janet and Jeffrey said good-night. Yes, it had been a great circus. A great day indeed! Somehow it seemed perfectly natural a little later for Janet to find herself facing Jeffrey Grant across a rose-shaded table in a quiet dining room. Janet was tired but she was happy, too.

"I don't know when I've had such a good time," she said. "It's been years since I've gone to a circus."

"Never miss them myself," Grant admitted. "I guess it's a weakness!"

It was a little later that Janet, leaning forward, said seriously, "You know, one thing that has impressed me so much about the Silvani family is how fond they all are of each other. The way Mrs. Silvani talks about Pat—and the children—and the way he talks about them, too! Even with all the hardship they're had they're devoted to each other!"

Grant nodded. "Yes, I've noticed that," he said. He raised his eyes then and at the look in them Janet's cheeks coloured.

LOCAL MEDICAL REGISTRATION

PROPOSED CHANGES IN LAW

The Gazette contains the draft of an Ordinance to consolidate and amend the law regulating the registration of practitioners in medicine and surgery.

The principal change is the division of the register into two parts. Part I will include those who have hitherto been entitled to registration under section 12 of Ordinance No. 1 of 1884 as well as the professors of Medicine of the University of Hongkong, who under section 19 of that Ordinance were not required to register but were "deemed to be" registered. Part II will include persons authorised by the Governor to sign medical certificates whose names were published annually in a list in the Gazette under section 9 (2) of Ordinance No. 1 of 1884.

One effect of the above change in the register will be to make the persons in Part II of the register "medical practitioners" and as such liable to take out and pay the fees for annual certificates to practise under section 21 (1) of the Stamp Ordinance, No. 8 of 1921. Persons whose whole time is at the disposal of the Crown, professors of the Faculty of Medicine of the University of Hongkong, and persons exempted by the Governor in Council on the ground that their whole time is at the disposal of some charitable institution, do not have to take out such certificates to practise, as they are exempted under section 21 (3) of Ordinance No. 8 of 1921, as amended by No. 26 of 1929 and this new Ordinance does not affect that exemption.

Another effect of requiring registration in the case of practitioners, who were not required to register under Ordinance No. 1 of 1884, is that it is made clear that these persons are brought under the jurisdiction of the Medical Board, which after due inquiry, in cases of conviction or infamous conduct in any professional respect, may censure a registered practitioner or direct that his name be struck off the register.

OBJECTION WITHDRAWN

Geneva, Sept. 6. An agreement has been reached regarding the composition of the Committee of Five which is to deal with the Italo-Abyssinian dispute. As a result of pressure brought by Britain and France, Italy has withdrawn her objection to these two nations serving on the Committee.

The Ethiopian Government has agreed to appoint M. Tekle Hawariat, the Minister to Paris, as its chief delegate in place of Professor Jeze, to whom the Italian object, Professor Jeze, however, will be M. Hawariat's assistant.

It is understood that this arrangement disposes of yesterday's incident, in which the Italian delegates left the Council chamber because of allegedly offensive remarks made by Professor Jeze. Apparently it affords satisfaction to Italy that the Frenchman, who has up to now headed the Ethiopian delegation, has been formally reduced in status.—Reuter.

during the afternoon at which the Italian member, Baron Aloisi, was present, decided on the constitution of the special sub-committee of five to consider the Italo-Ethiopian dispute.

Many objections offered by the Italian delegation to the proposed committee and its suggested personnel were at last overcome by a compromise arrangement, according to which the Italian delegate agreed to refrain from voting on the question.

When the public session began Baron Aloisi was in his place but he walked out when, in accordance with League procedure, the Abyssinian representative who is not a member of the Council was called to the table. After speeches by the Mexican member, who recalled the declaration of American Republics in 1932 that they would not recognise any settlement of an international dispute by force and urged the League's continuation of efforts to reach a solution of the Italo-Abyssinian dispute within the framework of the Covenant.

The Council approved the appointment of a sub-committee composed as follows: Monsieur Laval, France, Mr. Eden, Great Britain, Senor de Madaraga, Spain, Colonel Beck, Poland, and Dr. Tewfik, Turkey.

The Council then turned to other items on a very long agenda which as usual faces it on the eve of a meeting of the Assembly and which includes reports of various League committees on economic, financial and health questions, mandates, intellectual co-operation, opium and traffic in women, et cetera.—British Wireless.

FINE CINEMA PROGRAMME

QUEENS THEATRE ATTRACTIONS

The current programme at the Queen's Theatre is of exceptional interest and was greatly enjoyed at yesterday's sessions, at which there were large attendances. Joan Crawford and Robert Montgomery are starred in the main film, "No More Ladies," a comedy-drama full of action and smart dialogue, with an all-star cast. It is one of the best films seen in the Colony for some time.

Besides the main feature, there are two others of most entertaining character. The news-reel shows Helen Willa-Moody defeating Helen Jacobs in the final at Wimbledon, amongst other items. Then there is a really most striking "short," this being Star Night in the Coconut Grove. Done in technicolour, this film shows many of the leading screen stars at all entertainment of great merit. Altogether, a most attractive programme, which should not be missed.

THE GEOLOGICAL MUSEUM

NEW QUARTERS MORE ATTRACTIVE

London, Sept. 6. The removal of the Geological Museum from its former cramped quarters in Jermyn Street, off Piccadilly, to a spacious new building in South Kensington, where the League's International Monetary and Economic Conference was held in the summer of 1933, has already been justified by the increased interest shown by the public in the exhibits, which are now attractively set out and provide a fascinating introduction to what has hitherto been one of the less popular of sciences.

Since the opening of the premises two months ago, there have been daily attendances of a thousand, compared with a former annual total of visitors of under 21,000.—British Wireless.

New York, Sept. 6. While details of the gentlemen's agreement between the United States and Japan are lacking, it is understood in some quarters that the annual quota of cotton cloth imports would be somewhere in the neighbourhood of 16,000,000 square yards.—Reuter Special.
